R.E. Curriculum Progression

RE Curriculum intent and implementation

RE is an important curriculum subject in its own right but also because it makes a contribution to the spiritual, moral, social and cultural development of pupils and supports wider community cohesion. It supports the development of an individual's knowledge and understanding of the religions and beliefs which form part of contemporary society. RE also contributes to pupils' personal development and well-being and to community cohesion by promoting mutual respect and tolerance in a diverse society. RE can also make important contributions to other parts of the school curriculum such as citizenship, personal, social, health and economic education (PSHE education), the humanities, education for sustainable development and others.

RE at Queenswood is taught using the Telford and Wrekin Agreed Syllabus.

Pupils are taught in cross-curricular topics, making use of links with other subject such as literacy, geography, ART, DT and R.E. whenever possible. Our curriculum ensures children gain the knowledge and skills required by the National Curriculum, whilst having plenty of opportunity to re-visit content to ensure it is embedded. The 2-year rolling programme of content coverage is well-designed to promote new learning that is built on prior learning.

To assure that children are retaining the knowledge learned during each unit, a mind-map will be used for children to collect new knowledge and link it with prior learning. At the end of a unit, children will demonstrate their learning by creating 'My Memory Mind-Map' demonstrating the knowledge they have gained, which they will take on to future learning.

Safeguarding commitment and Modern British Values:

Children will be taught to question and explore their thoughts and ideas which will help them to develop their own personal values, beliefs and identity. They will develop their understanding of the religions and beliefs that form our modern day society and also the importance of mutual respect and tolerance in relationships.
